INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY: Blue VCSEL

Benefits of position

Y-AID is a startup accelerator program run by Yale’s Office of Cooperative Research.

We are looking students interested interning for one of the Y-AID technology startups.

The internship will provide you an opportunity to work with entrepreneurs and VC firms focused on commercializing cutting edge research coming out of Yale.

You will also have the chance to meet with professionals from a number of different industries.

Qualifications candidate should have

Ideal candidates should have:
- Financial modeling experience
- Background in conducting in-depth industry research
- Interest in analyzing market dynamics
- Capacity to assess different technology applications
- Knowledge of different route to market strategies
- Excellent communication skills
- Interest in science and engineering

Position duration

This is a 3-month internship (February – May 2020)

Hours/time commitment

Candidates should expect to work 10 hours/week in this position
If interested in being considered, please email OCRYale@gmail.com.